Introduction

Now you don't need any special IrDA printer to take advantage of your N9210's printing capabilities! Extended Printers is a set of printer drivers which enable printing to a file. The file can then be easily printed on PC using your standard computer printer.

One can print to both text and graphic file. There is also an option to print directly to clipboard, which makes it possible to paste the printed content directly in any Communicator application (e.g. Word or Sheet) and also to quickly paste the text in any Windows application via CopyAnywhere application.

Graphic driver

Graphic driver allows printing to a graphic file – either MBM or JPEG. This method provides a formatted output ready for printing and can be used when your don't need to make any modifications.

One can choose the quality, number of colors and file name and location of the destination graphics file:

Text driver generates a text file with the name and in location selected by the user. One can also select the delimiter (Tab, comma, colon, semicolon) to be used if the printed contents are in a table etc.

Printing to clipboard

Text driver also lets you print directly to clipboard. This method can be used if you want to paste your print out directly into some other document in Communicator (Word, Sheet etc) or on PC. If you have CopyAnywhere enabled on your PC, just press Ctrl-V to paste the Communicator clipboard contents into any Windows application like Notepad, Word etc.
