Installation Guide

Installation

Before installing this version of Extended Recorder application you have to uninstall any previous versions installed in your machine (if any). In order to uninstall previous version go to Control Panel and run Install/Remove application, then select Extended Recorder from the list of installed applications and press Remove button.

Now you can install the newest version. Extended Recorder is delivered in form of standard SIS installation file. You have to perform the installation process of this file according to your Nokia Communicator User Manual:
1. Check whether PC Suite application is running on your PC. If not – start it.
2. Connect your Nokia Communicator to PC using standard data cable (DLR-2L) and wait for PC Suite to establish connection with Communicator

3. Double-click on eRecorder.SIS file using left mouse button – this will launch PC Suite's Installer.

4. Select destination disk for the installation. Choose C: drive (internal memory) if you work with multiple memory cards to assure Extended Recorder's functionality even when the card is removed/changed or D: drive (memory card) if you work with single MMC card to conserve internal memory.

5. Select language of Extended Recorder's user interface.

Installation is complete. Now you can open Extended Recorder's main window and register it by entering registration code. If you don't have registration code, Extended Recorder will be started in time-limited trial version.
